MOBS RAN LOOSE IN DETROIT AS RACIAL FEELING FLARES INTO MURDER—

With rioting widespread in Detroit, one pack charges down on street cars halted at Woodward and Davenport in its search for Negroes. Passengers were dragged off cars and beaten, and scores more were injured by flying glass as the mob violence took many forms. The day's toll ran into the hundreds.

Gov. Kelly mustered out the State Troops by telephone from Columbus, O.

Police used tear gas to break up the huge mob that gathered in Woodward.

A pleas for tolerance. One passenger on a street car halted at Woodward and Davenport tried to dissuade the rioters from entering and dragging out prey.
