FOREWORD

The Detroit Negro Business League takes much pleasure in presenting you this copy of its 1927 Business and Professional Directory. It is intended that this directory shall enliven your acquaintance with the various business and professional people about you, and that it shall be of service to you when you have need of them or of their wares. A copy will be placed in every Negro home in the city.

The Detroit Negro Business League is beginning to assume a place of ever-increasing usefulness in the economic life of the local Race Group. Its ultimate aim is economic independence, and this directory is the result of but one of its plans which have been formulated to stimulate progress in that direction.

In a first edition of this kind there are certain to be omissions and, perhaps, errors. For such omissions and errors as occur, the editorial staff makes apology. Through greater co-operation from business concerns and the general public the league expects to bring its 1928 edition nearer to perfection.

To that end, we shall be pleased to have corrections, comments and suggestions, which may be directed to us at 635 E. Elizabeth Street. May we have your full co-operation?
